To Whom it May Concern,

Rhonda Scheurer is an incredibly talented consultant. She specializes in project management, business analysis and software development. I have known Rhonda for over a decade and have leveraged her skills on a number of projects over the years.

Qualities that make Rhonda unique are that she is extremely knowledgeable and grasps new concepts quickly. This allows her to get up to speed on new projects in record time, and most importantly, Rhonda gets things done. When I have worked with Rhonda, she provided estimated timelines and never missed deadlines. She is also very good at holding other team members accountable so that project deliverables are met.

I would wholeheartedly recommend Rhonda to others. You too will find that her skills are invaluable and will help you achieve success with your IT projects.

Sincerely,

Bridget Warner, MBA
